

Christopher J. Fuhrmann
Assistant Professor of History
University of North Texas
P.O. Box 310650
Denton TX 76203-0650

Office: 264 Wooten Hall (940-565-4527)

cfuhrmann@unt.edu

TEACHING INTERESTS: Ancient and Medieval History

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Ancient history and society, esp. Roman Empire and late antiquity; ancient religion; classical languages & literature; papyrology and epigraphy; comparative world history

EDUCATION:

Ph.D. History, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill May 2005

Dissertation: "Keeping the Imperial Peace: Public Order, State Control, and Policing in the Roman Empire, AD100-300." (Directed by Richard J. A. Talbert)

M.A. History, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill May 2001

M.A. Classical Languages and Literature, University of Kentucky August 1999

B.A. History and Classics, Honors, magna cum laude, University of Kentucky May 1999

Additional training:

- Intensive Greek Workshop, University of California-Berkeley Summer 1998
- Papyrology Summer School, University College, London Summer 2003

AWARDS

Mowry Research Grant, UNC-Chapel Hill, 2003

Waddell Fellowship, UNC, 1999-2001

National semi-finalist for Mellon Fellowship, 1999

Phi Beta Kappa, 1998

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Assistant Professor: August 2005-present, Department of History, University of North Texas

Lecturer: August-December 2004, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Adjunct Professor: September 2003 – June 2005, Strayer University-Raleigh

Adjunct instructor: Summer 2000, Durham Technical Community College

Teaching Assistant: August 1999-July 2004 and Summer 2005, UNC-Chapel Hill

Latin instructor and graduate assistant: January-December 1998, University of Kentucky

TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

Courses taught as sole instructor (14 in all, ranging from 7 to 125 students):

Western Civilization to 1650, World Civilization to 1500, Introduction to Art, Music and Literature from the Renaissance to the Present, Second Semester Latin, Greek History, Roman History.

Selected additional experience as a graduate teaching assistant (16 classes, of 20 to 300 students):

History of the Ancient Near East, Greece and Rome; Third Semester Latin; and Classical Mythology.

SERVICE EXPERIENCE:

Secretary for UNT History Department meetings: September 2005 to present.

UNT History Department Library Committee Secretary: September 2005 to present.

UNT History Department Committee for Undergraduate Studies: September 2005 to present.

Committee for Teaching and Learning (UNC-Chapel Hill): 2002-2003

PUBLICATIONS

Biographies of Herennius Etruscus and Hostilian for the refereed website De Imperatoribus Romanis, [<http://www.roman-emperors.org/hehost.htm>], 2001.

Edition and translation of a second-century AD Greek papyrus: "A Letter Concerning a Sub-lease Gone Wrong," accepted for publication in the Oxyrhynchus Papyri series.

Currently revising dissertation for publication as a book.

CONFERENCE PAPERS and RESEARCH PRESENTATIONS

"'Arrest me, for I have run away: Fugitive Slave Hunting and the Priorities of Roman Law Enforcement,'" American Philological Association, January 2005.

"Fugitive Slave Hunting and Elite Priorities in the Roman Empire," Baylor University Institute for Faith and Learning's Fruit Symposium: Slavery, Oppression, and Prejudice: Ancient Roots and Modern Implications, Oct. 2004.

"Theory vs. Practice: Plutarch, Dio Chrysostom, and Local Politics in the Early Roman Empire," Classical Association of the Middle West and South, 2003.

"Is God Really on Our Side? Christian Triumphalism in the Age of Constantine and Augustine," Ohio Valley Historical Conference, 2000.

"Catholic Consolidation and Donatist Decline, 347-361," Byzantine Studies Conference, 1998.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

American Historical Association, American Philological Association, Association of Ancient Historians, Classical Association of the Middle West and South

LANGUAGES

Ancient Greek, Latin, French (six years of study), German, Italian, Spanish